DEDICATION . . .

RIGHT REVEREND JOHN J. KEARNS, V. G.

We, the seniors, are proud to have been a part of your dream, the dream of a Catholic high school in Waco. We hope that our lives will give you reason to be proud that we were the object of your hopes, prayers and sacrifices. For these, for your splendid example of Christian living, your personal interest and your friendship, we dedicate the CHI-RHOAN of 1958 to you, Monsignor Kearns.

CLASSROOM SCENES

Without neglecting its first aim - TEACHING HOW TO LIVE - Catholic High also teaches how to make a living. Daily practice results in skilled typists.

The ability to speak well is an important asset, no matter what the years have in store for these boys. Progress in articulation is checked frequently by means of the tape recorder.

LEARNING THE SKILLS

Apprentice mathematicians learn from Mr. John Vasek not only to "solve for X" but also to understand the solving process.

Aspiring bookkeepers prepare their ledgers, and their futures, under the supervision of Sister Margaret Ellen.

Relaxing in their model apartment while they await the results of an experiment in baking is the privilege of Home Ec students.

FOR BETTER LIVING

Before eager seamstresses begin to stitch, they learn from Sister M. Blanche to select appropriate patterns and materials as well as to understand the art of homemaking.

Obviously the preparation of a tasty salad dressing is no laughing matter.

Junior high girls learn that leafy green vegetables really do make for happier and healthier living.

EXPLORING THE COMPOSITION OF THE EARTH . . .

Weighing chemicals demands precision and exactitude from both Sister Margaret Ruth and Senior scientists.

The "eyes" have it. Have what? That's exactly what these members of the General Science class are trying to find out.

AND LEARNING ITS HISTORY

The story of Texas vitally interests Sister Anna Clare's junior high students.

American History students "discover" that there are forty-seven OTHER states!

Derivative conscious sophomores earn coveted "points" by collecting Latin labels.

Time passes all too swiftly as Sister Mary Scholastica explains the fundamentals of charcoal drawing to the amateur artists.

Ken Gritter, winner of an award in ink drawing and in design printing, admires with Dick Guthrie, first place winner in design printing, the silk-screen print which won second place for Diane Sulak. A fourth winner in the Chamber of Commerce Contest was Delrene Sanders, absent when this picture was taken.

PRACTISING THE ARTS

Mr. Henry Snyder, veteran director of C. H. S. plays, discuss plans with the cast of THE FIGHTING LITTLES, Marilyn, Phil, Delrene, Peggy, Ronnie, Robert, Phil, Joe Ed, Lupe, Ann, Joanne, Mary Ann, Jo Ann, Susan and Mary Ann.

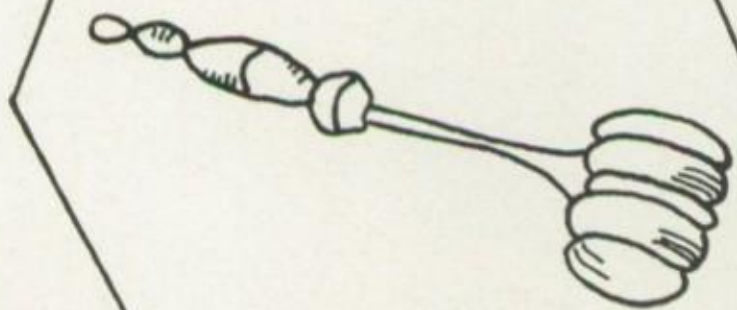

David Biedermann, business manager, approves stage managers Morris and Guthrie's drawings for the set.

SANCTIFYING SELF AND NEIGHBOR

"May the Body of Our Lord Jesus Christ preserve your soul . . . Father McDowell, retreat master, distributes communion to the student body during the closing Mass.

Preceding an assembly at which they spoke to the student body, Sister Mary Dolores and Sister Mary Esther tell Lupe Hernandez of their work in the medical field in Pakistan.

MAY QUEEN

To Lupe Hernandez very fittingly belonged the privilege and honor of crowning the statue of our Blessed Mother in the annual May Day ceremony.

During her four years at C. H. S. Lupe made the Sodality way of life her way of life. As Prefect she strove always to increase the number of special friends of Our Lady at Catholic High School.

PUTTING OUR LIFE IN PICTURE AND PRINT

Sports editors Dan Sulak and J. P. Davis receive hints from Sister Mary Jarlath as art editors Dick Guthrie and Ken Gritter prepare layouts for the annual.

Happy smiles from the staff indicate that the box contains just what it says - the final pages of the CHI-RHOAN ready to be mailed to Dallas.

Copy writing requires time and patience as L. Hernandez, M. A. Matus-tik, M. Trautschold, and G. Slovak discover when they try to put pictures into words.

J.C.L.

Here, Leslie Smith, surrounded by a group of admirers, Regina Moncus, Barbara DeLuca, and Catherine Kolar, listens to an edict being read by centurion, Murray McMillin.

As the auctioning of slaves is the initiation of freshmen into the J.C.L., Martin Jones, nobleman, considers buying slave, Patricia Beckham, as Dick Guthrie, consul, approves.

JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE

"We will hand on the torch of Classical Civilization in the modern world" was the pledge recited by the freshmen at their formal acceptance into the J.C.L.

ACTIVITIES

Ken, Peggy and Dick put the finishing touches on a fierce paper-mache cougar which dominated the gym floor in his picket-fence cage.

C.H.S.'s FIRST

Frank Hurtado, team co-captain, crowns beaming Peggy Maloy queen of the homecoming festivities.

HOMEcoming

Art students go all out for homecoming as they transform the interior of the gym into the Big Top.

Grads and undergrads make the confetti swirl as they mix-it-up at the homecoming frolic.

QUEENS FOR A NIGHT

Social poise and gracious living are as important in student development as is intellectual growth. At Catholic High a monthly sock hop, holiday dances, and a formal Prom in the ballroom of the Roosevelt Hotel provide opportunity for acquiring these qualities.

BASKETBALL QUEEN ANN SUTTER was chosen by the Letterman's Club to represent C. H. S. at the Hubbard tournament.

PROM QUEEN

DIANE SULAK (center) reigned as Queen of the Junior-Senior Prom. Her attendants, fellow juniors, are Mary Alice Matus and Wanda Kramolis.

"Deo Gratias" sings the Senior Chorus at the Christmas Cantata.

Appearing in fall, Christmas, and spring concerts and singing in neighboring towns, the Junior and Senior Choruses, under the direction of Sister Harriet Jeanne, experienced one of their finest and busiest years. Besides purchasing gowns for the junior group, the choruses added to their music library and acquired a baby grand piano.

UPLIFTING THE SPIRIT . . .

Four-year choral members, Marilyn Trautschold, Lupe Hernandez, Genevieve Slovak, and J. P. Davis appreciate the new piano.

Five tableaux highlighted the Christmas Cantata. Here, accepting the gifts of the Magi (R. Moore, M. Jones, H. Eberhart) are Mary (Joanne Rose) and Joseph (Kenneth Jank).

Wearing gray gowns and red scarves, the Junior Chorus delights audiences with both classical numbers and novelty tunes.

C. H. S. 'ers, commencing the school year right, assist at the Mass of the Holy Ghost, and later greet friends as they leave St. Mary's Church.

WITH SONG AND ACTION

Ed Jarvis, Pat Beckham, and Teresa Todaro look hopefully on as the doctor, Dean Carrigan, attempts to cure the ailing world, Loyd Rowe, in a freshman mission skit.

Joyous carolers voice the true spirit of Christmas perched on their colorful float as it rolls slowly down Austin Avenue in the Waco Civic Christmas parade.

TRAINING THE BODY

Intramural champs, the Juniors, demonstrate their athletic ability.

Senior advisor supervises sophomore basketball practice.

The give and take of life is often prepared for in the give and take of basketball, volleyball, baseball, badminton, and soccer, all of which are enjoyed by the girls' gym classes.

Freshmen show co-ordination in routine calisthenics under the guiding eye of Mrs. Marek, instructor.

TO OBEY THE MIND

Eighth grade athletes show their love of baseball by their enthusiastic smiles.

Dancing, enjoyed here by the 7th grade, manifests the variety stressed by the Physical Education program.

An impressive pyramid, the achievement of the 7th grade tumbling class, was realized with the help of senior advisors.

Friendliness, good sportsmanship and a spirit of fair play are requisites for play and for life. These qualities, an asset to the individual and to the school, are instilled at C. H. S. by Mrs. J. Marek, girls' athletic instructor.

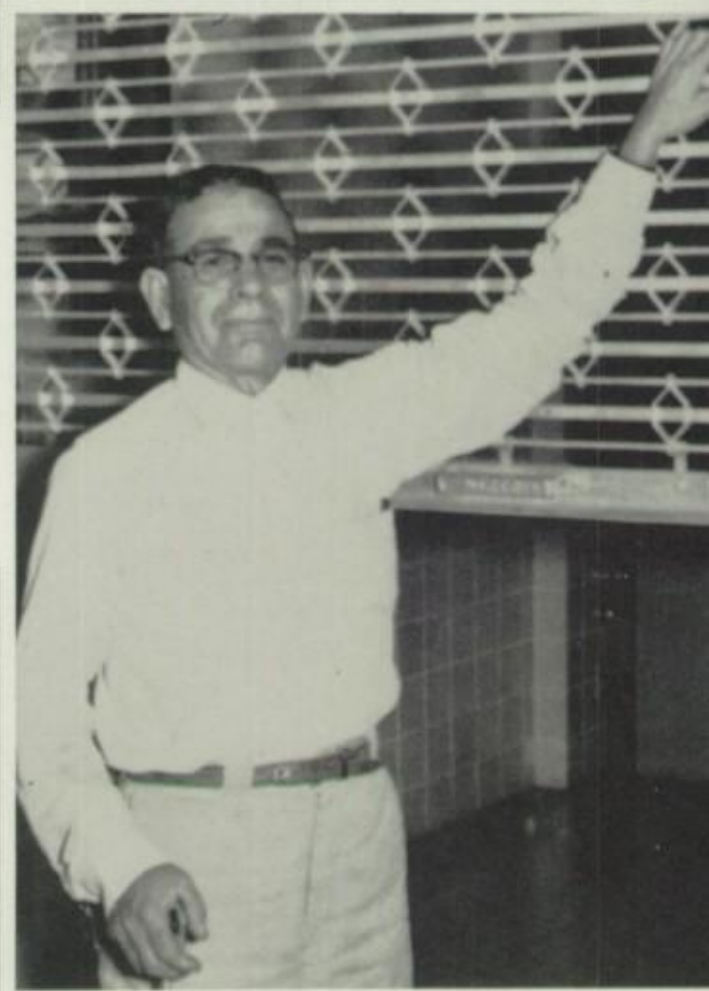

Smiles light up the faces of the seventh graders as they await the lunches served by Mrs. Jacobs, Mrs. Eison, and Mrs. Langlotz.

IN AND AROUND C.H.S.

Cleaning, sweeping, waxing, or just pulling down the division grating, Mr. Almanza knows from experience that caring for C.H.S. is a never-ending task.

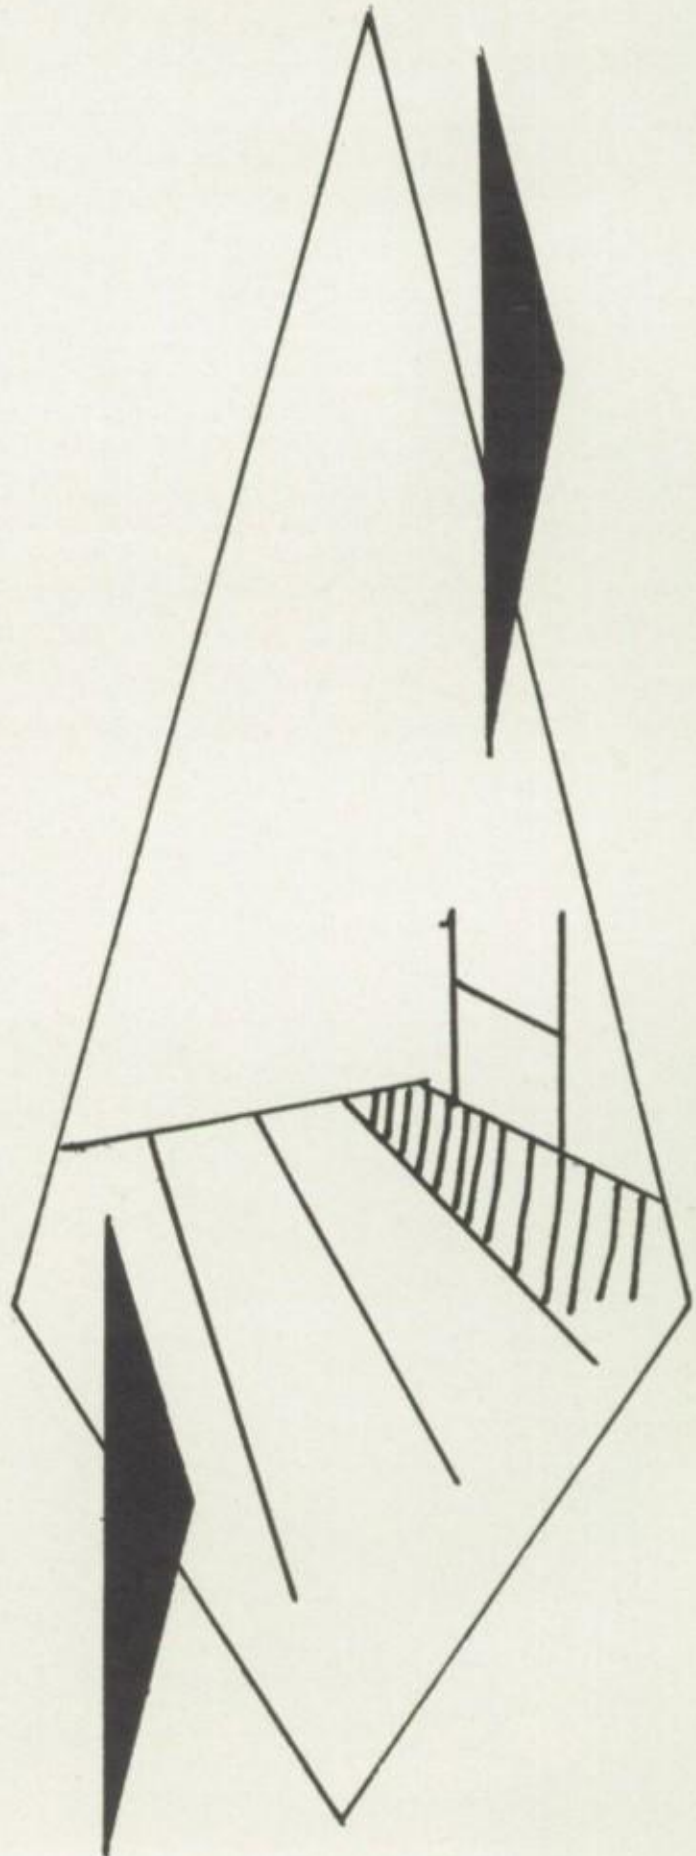

Newcomer Charles Cronkite is issued textbooks by the "bookroom ladies," Mrs. M. Hargrove and Mrs. R. Jones, who also handle all tuition money.

Surrounding the 1957 Ford given by Waco's Mr. J. H. Kultgen for driver education, a group of sophomore boys listen intently to Mr. John Vasek, instructor.

SEASON'S HIGHLIGHTS

The Catholic High Cougars, in their first year of district play, ended a quite impressive season with 6 wins, 2 losses, and a tie. They placed second in district play, losing only to Laneri, (16-7), traditional rivals of the Cougars. Joe Ed Matus, senior end, was named to the Super Centex Team, which is picked annually by the coaches and sports writers of Central Texas.

Cougar players Larry Snider (55), Robert Young (73), and J. P. Davis (33) converge on opponent in 19-0 win over the St. Pius Panthers.

SOUTHWEST ACADEMY LEAGUE STATE CHAMPS

The classy Cougars won the title "state champs" when they downed finalists Laneri of Ft. Worth, 53-51, in an over-time game. Lynn Morris, Joe Ed Matus, and J. P. Davis were named to the all-league team. Joe Ed and J. P. were also picked for the six-man all-state team. The Southwest Academy League state tournament was held in February at St. Edward's University, Austin.

Showing fine form, Gerry Morris stretches for two points against Hillsboro.

J. P. Davis fakes before chalking up another two points in tournament championship game at Hubbard.

The Morris brothers, Lynn and Gerry, work the ball as teammate Joe Ed Matus and Hillsboro players look on.

Bird's eye view of the first string cagers. Manuel Aleman, Gerry Morris, Lynn Morris, Joe Ed Matus, J. P. Davis, and Ernest Dulak.

"AND WE'LL RECALL EACH MEMORY ONE AND ALL . . ."

Four years ago Catholic High School opened its doors as the first co-educational Catholic high school in Waco . . . four years ago we seniors were wide-eyed freshmen. As those years have been fruitful, significant years in the life of both students and school, our 1958 CHI-RHOAN would not be complete without some mention of the many memories we share with our Alma Mater.

As a senior smiles in amusement at the enthusiastic efforts of a freshman, so, too, can our school look back with amusement at its early efforts to become what a school should be. However, now that achievement and progress are reflected in every gleaming tile and brick of our beautiful building, we must not let ourselves forget those basketball games that didn't always turn out right . . . the new football uniforms that implied long hours of practice and more practice . . . the first efforts of our quite amateur paper, "The Cougar Chronicle," to record the news, or the first Latin Convention and the S. S. C. A. . . . raising the money to purchase choral gowns . . . singing for school and social affairs.

Inspection by State educators found us ready after three busy years to receive official scholastic accreditation. The diplomas received by the graduates of C. H. S. are an "Open Sesame" to any college in the nation.

Four short years have made dignified seniors of us . . . and an ideal school of Catholic High School, reminding us of the words of an editorial in the first COUGAR . . . "C. H. S. is our school; it is ours to take care of and ours to build." We want our pastor, our parents, and our teachers to know that we are grateful for . . . these treasured years at C. H. S.

ADS

WORKING BEHIND THE SCENE

Howard Eberhart, Susan Hanapel, and Martin Jones perform the never-ending task of checking and recording ad contracts.

High ad salesman, Larry Kousal (seventh grade), hands his last ad blanks to John.

Heading the business department of the CHI-RHOAN this year was John Good, who with his industrious staff, budgeted the expenditure of over twelve hundred dollars. Besides recording ad contracts which the student body had solicited, the staff also handled subscriptions and patron slips. The task of planning dummies, arranging layouts, and typing copy was undertaken by members of the journalism class.

Busily writing checks is John Good, business manager of the CHI-RHOAN.

CHI-RHOAN BUSINESS STAFF

Working diligently toward their deadline, journalism class members arrange ad make-up pages.

Dear Shanda,
Remember the
"good ol' days"
at St. Mary's?
Just one more year to go! It's been great knowing you! Best wishes
Always! Herbest

I shall want to give you some great life lessons
one H.I.S.
I know I have a great understanding and as you are

will work with you in all things as power
up to me

I have known him time hope that come to be come be come
